#1 Island in North America

Cape Breton Island has been ranked the #1 Island in North America by Condé Nast Traveler readers and #1 Island in Canada by Travel + Leisure readers.

Canada's Musical Coast

Inverness County and its 3,800 square kilometres along the western coast of Cape Breton Island is known as Canada's Musical Coast. The county's key economic drivers include tourism and culture, fishing, aquaculture, agriculture and forestry. We are a multicultural, multilingual destination, offering a safe and welcoming environment to newcomers from all over the world.

Location, location, location

Our location means easy access to both Halifax and Moncton, two of the largest consumer markets in Atlantic Canada. We are also a short flight from Toronto. Inverness County is connected to the mainland by Highway 104 to Canso Causeway, a three hour drive from Halifax and a 1.5 hour drive from the city of Sydney, the second largest city in Nova Scotia.

What our Healthcare Professionals say about Inverness County

"It is a pleasure living and working as part of such a close-knit community, both inside and outside the clinic and hospital.

It is impossible not to fall in love with the Acadian culture, music, food, coastal drives, and people. The beauty here is timeless."

Dr. Felicia Lotsios

Sacred Heart Community Health Centre

"There is an appreciation between community members and doctors.

The patients are grateful that we're here, and grateful that they are receiving care.

The decision to stay in Inverness to practice medicine was an easy one to make."

Dr. Kathryn Binnersley

Inverness Consolidated Memorial Hospital

Cape Breton Highlands National Park

Cape Breton Highlands National Park, the first national park designated in Atlantic Canada, is one of the most visited and loved regions in Canada, and can be found in the north and west of Inverness County.

The Cabot Trail, a world-famous scenic highway, runs along parts of the coastal borders on both sides of the park and crosses the highlands.
